EDUC

IS

A good education enables a person to worry about things in all parts of the world.

Illinois State Journal

You are educated if you can do what you ought; whether you want to or not.

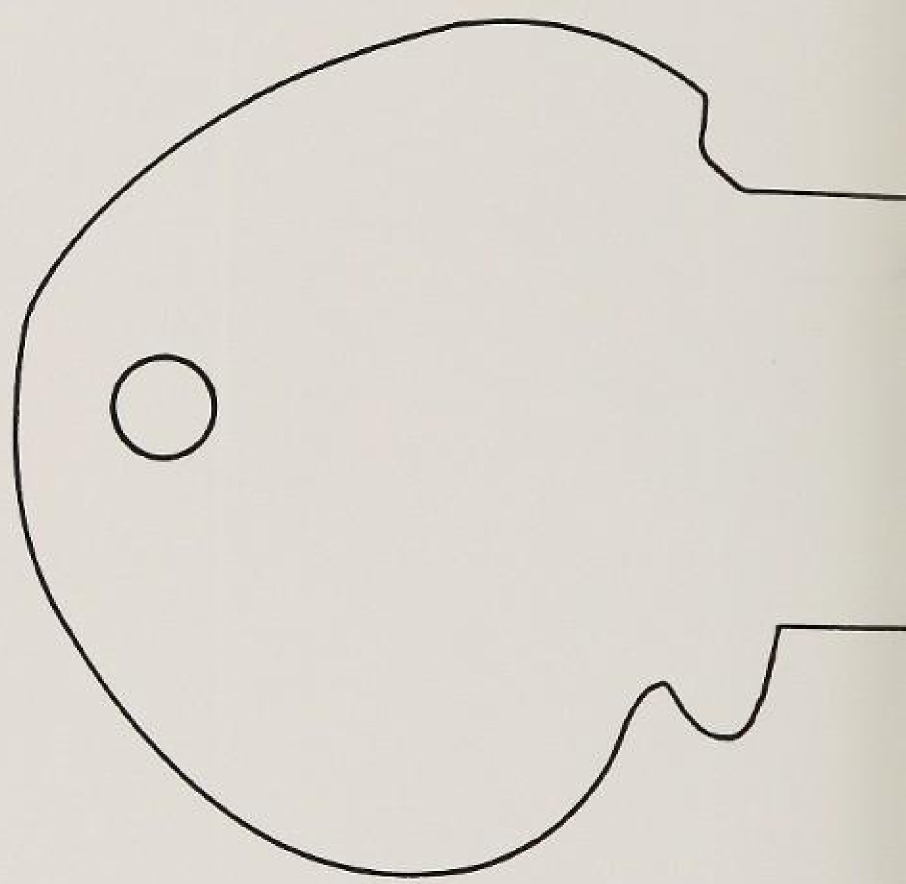

Herbert Spencer

If you educate a man, you educate an individual; if you educate a woman, you educate a family.

Dr. Charles D. McIvor

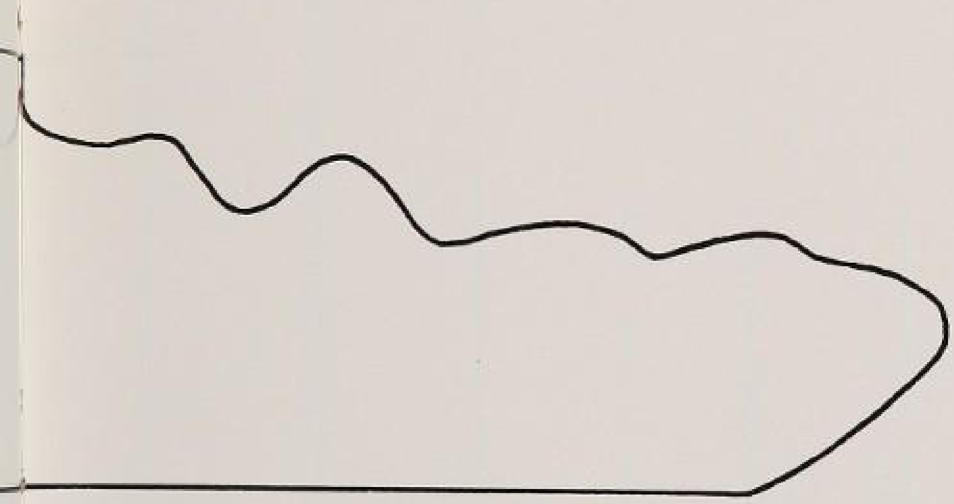

The larger the island of knowledge, the larger the shoreline of wonder.

Ralph Sockman

THE

The primary purpose of education is not to teach you to earn your bread, but to make every mouthfull sweeter.

James Angull

The world stands aside to let anyone pass who knows where he is going.

David Starr Jordan

It is not only the most difficult thing to know one self, but the most inconvenient one, too.

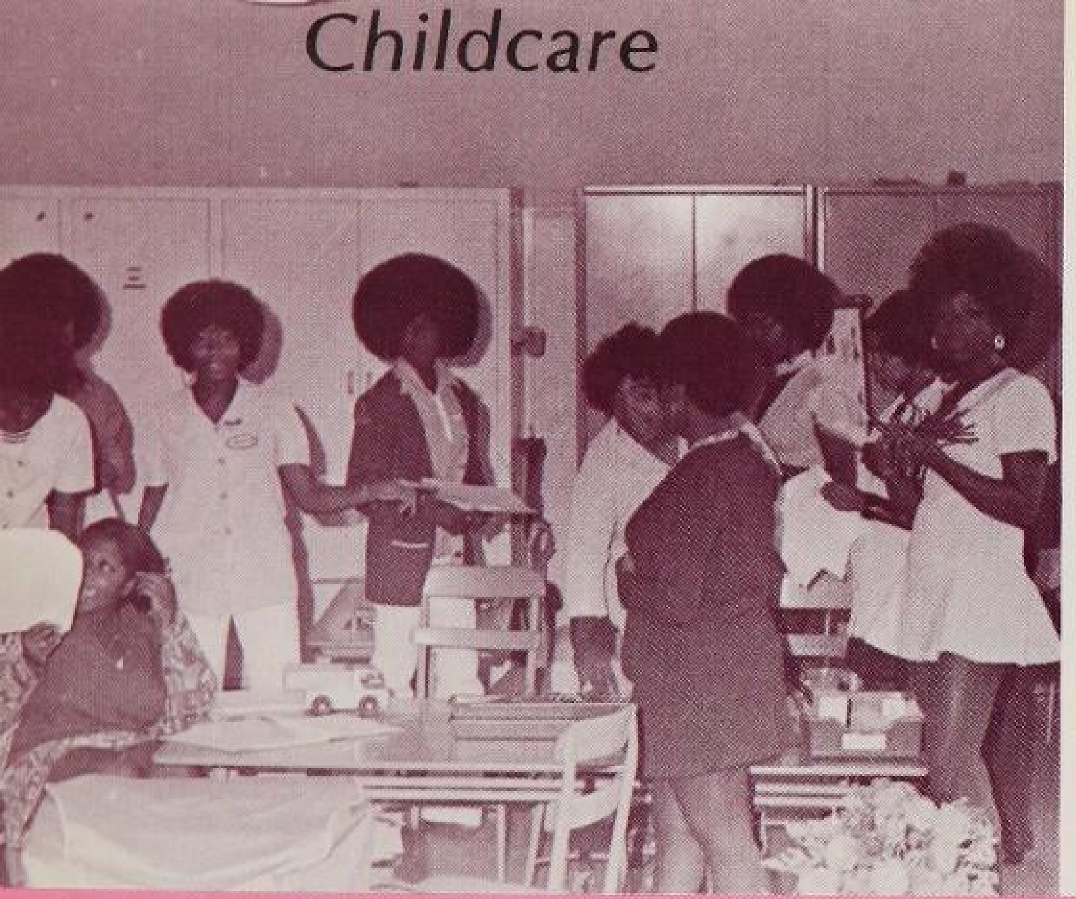

Josh Billings

You can always spot a well-informed man, his views are the same as yours.

We the students of Locke, are proud to be educated people of the world. And we will not take our education in vain. We shall use it sparingly, but yet wisely. Wisely and honestly. We shall use our knowledge to reach a better future. For the future belongs to our children of tomorrow, and the adults of today. For it's up to us now to better our world, in peace, in harmony, and in love.

It's up to all the races to work together, but it's up to us to start it. And in order for us—the leaders of tomorrow, the educators of the future to do so—we must first educate ourselves.

For with knowledge, we will always gain honesty, justice, and the good will of men.

We the young people of Locke shall educate our minds, and get ourselves together.

Whether it be in a group, or all by ourselves.

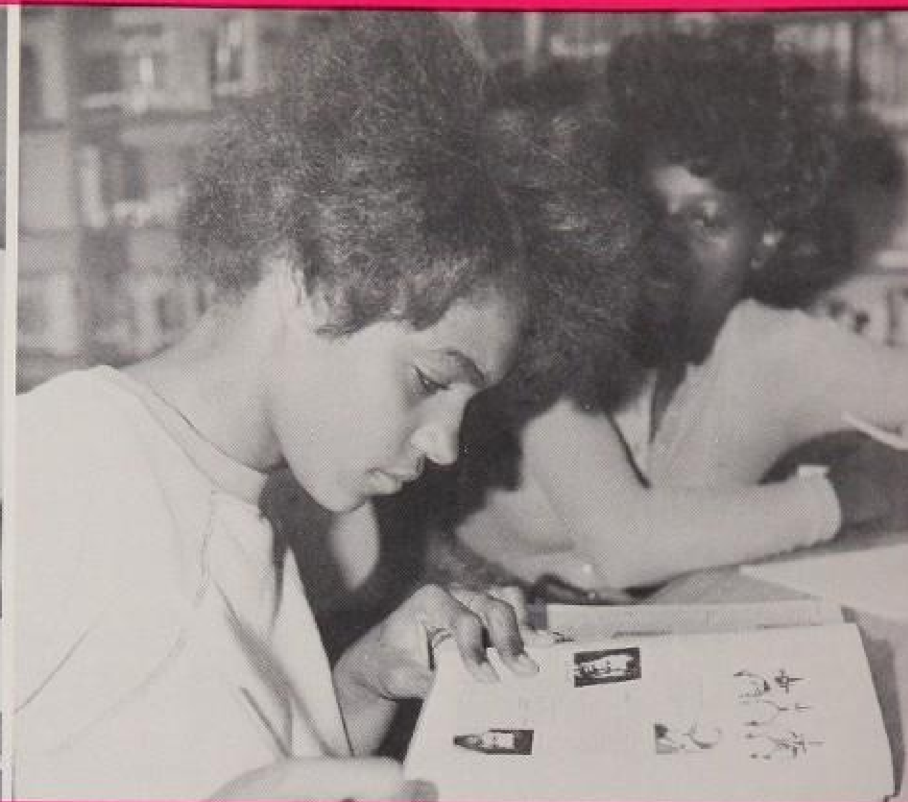

Educating, no matter how we do it.

Hey, my place or yours? Big Daddy!

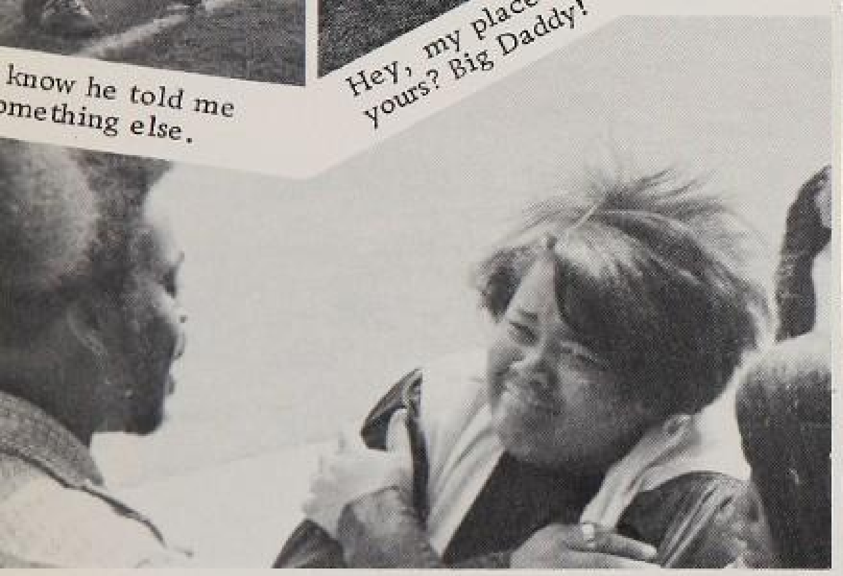

Ah! The spice of life!

Not me! The Ball!

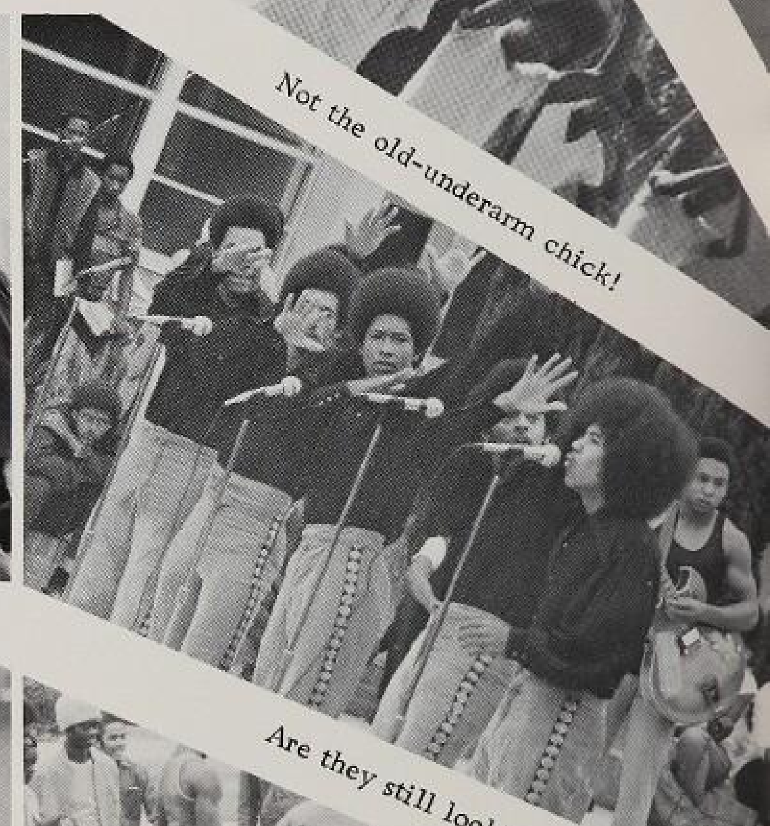

Free at last! Free at last!

Your eyes and smile hmmm, but that breath!

Why us, why us all the time?

Not the old-underarm chick!

1+2 is 3 isn't it?

Are they still looking?

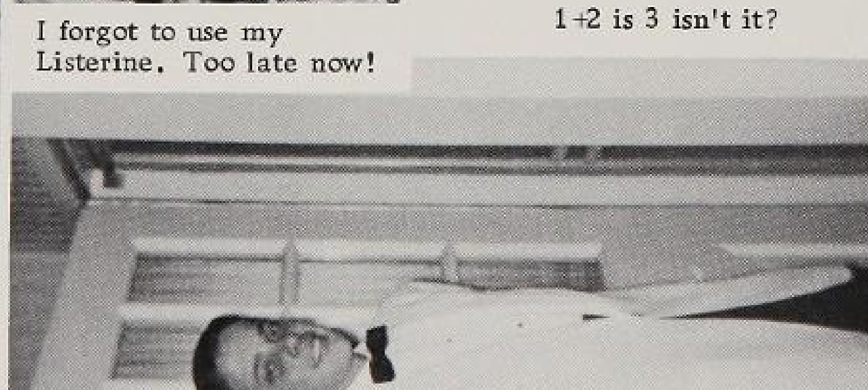

Kung Fu!

I forgot to use my Listerine. Too late now!

Don't forget to feed the waste basket!

And I was cool!

Hey, is that you?

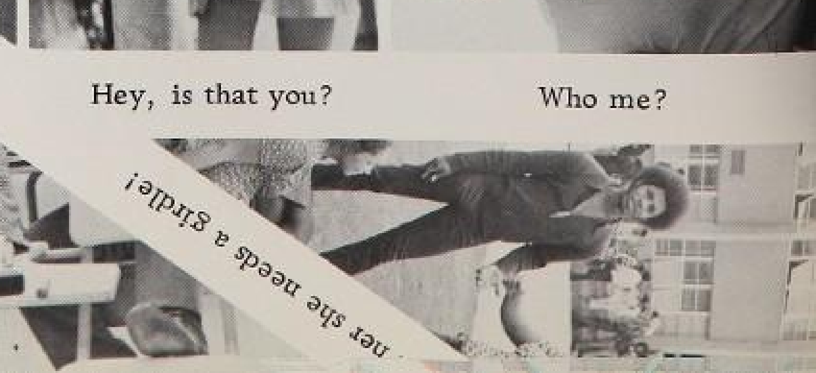

Who me?

Yeah, go on!!

A toast to the fool.

Wafundishi Wa Kesho

Wafundishi Wa Kesho

There's a spark of achievement in our eyes,
For Powder Blue and Gray, you'll see from time to time.
Never thought our day would ever come,
But now it came, to speak our name,
        Wafundishi Wa Kesho
        Educators of the Future
Yes, we're the only class, that you have been waiting for, forever
And forever will our spirits keep growing strong, for we're growing strong

For we beat the Mayele Na Lobi, the Maarifa Na Kutafuta, and all the other ones,
For we're young, gifted, and Black
We're here to show you (underclassmen)
That we are for you.
Write our name across the sky,
        Wafundishi Wa Kesho
Yes, we're the only class, that you have been waiting for, forever
And nothing will ever hold us back
Because we're going strong, we're growing strong.

(sung to the tune: Betcha By Golly Wow)

Seniors on the go!

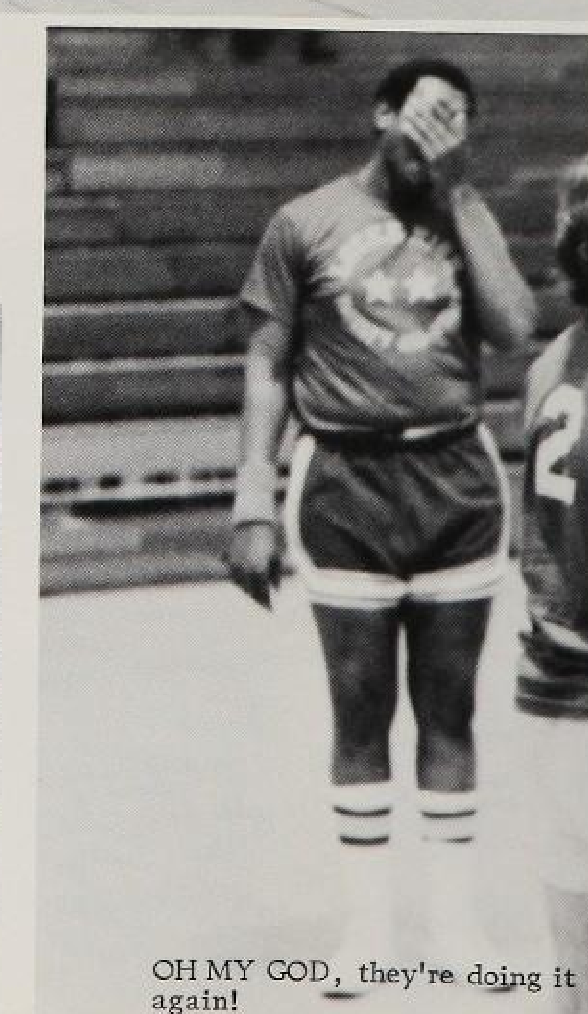

SENIORS HERE!!!

Do IT, Stevie. DO IT!!!

I can't believe we lost the WHOLE game.

OH MY GOD, they're doing it again!

The Graduating Class Of 1973, Wafundishi Wa Kesho, would like to thank their sponsors for working so hard with them to help make this a together class. They are: Mrs. Chanaiwa, Mr. Ondeck, Mr. Benisek, & a Very Special Thank-You to Mr. Caro, Mr. Collins, and Mrs. Gonzales.

The 1973 Halo regrets that they were unable to take pictures of these hard working people.

What It Is Seniors?

Donna Lisa Williams

Juniors can face the future.

Sandra Butler

Senior

June announced itself imperiously, gripping the school with stiff, stifling winds. There was a secure authority to the month; the whims of the weather were positive statements from high skies. The sun slanted sharply, nights were black, and the winds blew in cool, soothing air. People would know June in full array as they moved closer to Graduation.

Days disappeared, some slowly, others in blurry activities, until finally Graduation arrived. A blithe day with a sure sun and erratic, punchy winds; a day that marked the beginning of a new life for the Senior Class.

People awakening on this day sensed the new season all around them and breathed in the air of annual re-joicing. Fear would stop long enough to consider the traditional meaning of Commencement Day; most would embrace it as a time free of worries. Suddenly the Senior Keshos would be kinder to each other; there would be a generosity of spirit, an exchange of smiles; there would be neither guilt nor shame in allowing the mind to love . . .

The third Thursday in June would be a neat and polished day. People poised at the edge of happy, eventful times would ready themselves for laughter and care-free, unwrinkled cheer.

Farewell . . .

In this time of summer they would tacitly recognize the waning of one year and acknowledge the shy overtures of the beginning of a new time in their lives.

Graduation nights at Locke are emotional carnivals. They are the nights of a class celebrating -- the frustrations of the past weeks abandoned to headlong release. They are tidier versions of New Year's Eve, quieter portraits of the Fourth of July. People give in to pleasure, encourage their restless spirits, shed their schoolday weariness.

Some find respite in the intimacy of private moments, others spin the city like a top into the tiny hours. Some cling to that Thursday night, refusing to admit the dawn of a new day . . .

We'll recall our learning, love life, teachers and friends with the nostalgia and ardor that life often lends.
The time has come for us to depart,
each going his own way and making his own start.
So as we bid our fondest valediction,
the Powder Blue and Gray will fit the description of a place we've come to know so well . . .
and so, with tears, kisses, and cries . . . we bid you
Farewell.

Yvette LaFay Bell
